JUDGE HAINES vs INITIATIVE

de Aryan vs. Firemen Wind Up in Draw

Two Memorable Days Among Gentlemen

RUMOR SPREAD de ARYAN WAS PICKETING SUPERIOR COURT DEPT. 2

Press Photographers Hurry to Take Pictures

By C. LEON de ARYAN

Melvin C. Mayne, reporter for the San Diego UNION, had to ignore his grouch against me which he has faithfully carried for the last four years because I refuse to pay $15 to a union printer to "make up" my paper under my instructions, preferring to earn that money myself making up my own paper. His paper and the Los Angeles TIMES had rushed photographers to Judge Chas. C. Haines' superior courtroom in the courthouse to take my picture carrying a mounted placard with the legend: NO NEED SIGNING PETITION FOR SIX-DAY WEEK, CITY COUNCIL GAVE IT TO FIREMEN by Ordinance, which picket sign I was wielding in Judge Haines' court on and off to illustrate how I had stood for hours at 5th & Broadway informing the firemen that they were lying to the public when they solicited signatures on the street to their initiative petition for a charter amendment, while they claimed that the San Diego city council had refused to grant them a six-day week. So during the first afternoon recess last Thursday, Mayne came to me saying: "The paper wants your picture carrying that sign. I asked Judge Haines for permission to take the picture here in the courtroom, but he refused. So will you please, pose outside the entrance to the courtroom." The photographers had not arrived yet when court convened again, but at the next recess they got their picture. After 5 o'clock the reporter from the TIMES had a short interview and I straightened him out on the rumor about picketing Judge Haines, explaining that I had been picketing the firemen and was merely reenacting during my injunction trial the manner in which I had protested in public against the fraudulent way by which the people were taken for a ride to sign that petition for a charter amendment to take the firemen from under the jurisdiction of the city council & the civil service commission as far as wages and hours were concerned, and raise the tax rate up to 60c on $100 valuation.

De Aryan vs. City of San Diego et al

I had filed injunction proceedings against the City of San Diego, the City Clerk, City Attorney and City Council to prevent their placing on the ballot of an initiative petition signed by thousands of unwilling citizens who were afraid to refuse to sign for fear of being boycotted by the AFL Fire Fighters Association, who, as fire marshalls, have power to enforce petty fire rules in such a way that they could ruin a man's business. The grounds on which I asked for the injunction was that the circulators were misrepresenting the contents of the petition by merely stating that it contained a provision for a change-over from a seven day week to six days, concealing from prospective signers the fact that in addition it was effecting a raise in pay from 24 to 29% per fireman which would raise the tax rate in proportion. They also concealed the fact that I had petitioned the city council of San Diego to establish the six-day week by budget ordinance and the council had granted my request on behalf of the firemen and had given specific instructions that the firemen should not suffer loss in pay on account of the shortened work week.

Deputy City Attorney James J. Breckenridge represented the city during the trial and Attorneys Jean F. du Paul and Shelly Higgins appeared for the 1 to 1000 John Does, Firemen of the San Diego Fire Dept. Presiding Judge N. L. Turrentine had transferred the case to Judge Haines for disposal. The hearing lasted from 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon till 5 o'clock Thursday and wound up in a draw. The demurrer of the defendants was sustained but Judge Haines refused to sustain it altogether without leave to amend, saying that legally I had a case against the firemen, but that I had to amend the complaint by specifically stating the correct number of names which had been obtained by fraud and misrepresentation and then I had to bring into court each and everyone of those signers and have him and her testify to the fact of the misrepresentation. Of course, I would have to haul about 20,000 witnesses into court and it would take us a year just to take testimony. I have not the money to conduct such a hearing in court, but have ten days time in which to amend the complaint and start marshalling my 20,000 witnesses.

Among Gentlemen of the Law

While refusing to dismiss my complaint against the firemen and granting me ten days in which to amend and produce the witnesses, Judge Haines congratulated me from the bench about the manner in which I presented my case in propria persona without being represented by council and on my grasp of the principles of law. The opposing attorneys joined in expressing their respects in the matter and that, of course, compels me to congratulate them also on their friendly and co-operative conduct of the case and the many courtesis they extended me helping me over technical hurdles of which I was ignorant. This trial presented an unique spectacle with the attorneys and court advising me from time to time what the proper procedure was for me to take and we saved lots of time and cut through red tape so that we came to the final decision in a day and one-half sittings in place of dragging out the litigation over weeks and months as it might have been dragged out had all the ruts of court procedure and cutomary delays been followed.

Chas. C. Haines Deplores Conduct of Solicitors

In rendering his final decision Judge Haines spoke for over 20 minutes. He outlined the intention and contrasted it with the practice of the Inititiative, Recall & Referendum system. While the intent is ideal, in practice too often irresponsible, ignorant and incompetent people carry around petitions which it would take a Philadelphia lawyer a month to properly explain and detail, and in a few words "inform" prospective signers of the content by merely referring to some portion that would induce the prospect to sign and in this wise "the will of the people" is technically ascertained, while in fact it might be a most fraudulent misrepresentation of the actual intent of the public. Such fraud prosecutions are hard to handle because of the amount of evidence that would have to be adduced in a court of law to convict. These evils are incident to the system itself with the type of people who are handling the petitions and the courts could not possibly correct such a system which works for good when properly used by an awakened electorate with ideal solicitors, but works for evil in an apathetic society where complex propositions are placed on the ballot for common folks to unriddle.

A Minority, Pioneer or Prophet

Maynes reports in the San Diego UNION of Feb. 28, where a picture of the picket sign appears which I exhibited to the judge:

de Aryan appeared as his own attorney throughout the proceedings, and at one time yesterday afternoon declared:

"I stand as a minority, possibly a pioneer, perhaps as a prophet."

Without the rest of my speech this excerpt does not convey what I said: "I stand here as a minority, possibly a pioneer, perhaps as a prophet of a better era, when solicitors will be honest and tell the truth as we learned to tell the truth when mother taught us as children to speak the truth, and as they taught us in Sunday school to tell the truth. Not by concealing the truth and presenting only such portions which will induce people to sign a petition that effects the exact opposite of what they intend to do."

Why Not Filibuster ?

AMERICA FIRST

(Over KGB, Wednesday, 8:15 pm, Feb. 26, 1941)

I was very much pleased with the President's anouncement that America's program is to establish the four fundamental rights of self-government everywhere in the world. I am happy over it, because that makes it the duty of America to maintain these four fundamental rights at home in order to demonstrate by example to the other peoples that it is possible to maintain them at all times.

Like Charity, Freedom for the soverign American begins at home; begins in the U. S. A. To maintain this freedom our Founding Fathers of the Republic have established the Constitution, the President is sworn to protect it. Every citizen must protect it if our rights are to be protected and everyone of us must exercise our rights at all times, for rights cannot be delegated by the individual anymore than you can delegate the business of eating, breathing, thinking to another and survive, you have to exercise those functions yourself.

It is the duty of every American to place America first, it is our sworn duty, those of us who took the pledge of allegiance. And we cannot do it otherwise except by putting America first.

The printer of THE BROOM, Roy O. Akers, recently became quite outspoken after reading the various reports from prominent senators who stated on the floor of the senate that the lease-lend-give-away bill is in fact a declaration of war, and that it makes the President our dictator. Akers asked me whether it would not be possible to start a suit in the Supreme Court to enjoin the passage of such a bill. He had in mind that the Supreme Court declared the NRA unconstitutional and of course H. R. 1776 gives the President even more powers than the NRA which is unconstitutional.

I explained to Akers that the courts could not enjoin our legislative bodies from legislating. If the majority of legislators at the capital want to give away our whole country, its people and products, we could not go to the supreme court to stop them from passing that law, but after they did it, we could start a suit as was done with the NRA.

"What good will it do us?" asked Akers, "Roosevelt has appointed his own judges on the court who are in the majority. What is it coming to?"

I agreed that we are facing a very grave situation, but I advised Akers not to give up hope, because after all, God rules supreme and not the politicians or the stringpullers. The U. S. A. was founded by God-fearing Christian patriots and it will be protected by the same type of men and women in its great crisis. The plans of mice and men always miscarry when Divine Providence is being flouted. We cannot establish liberty everywhere on earth as the President has announced it our duty to do, unless we protect and continue to exercise our rights to liberty here in America. Liberty is a spiritual function, a matter of high intelligence, liberty is not license to take away the liberty of the people of America to their right of expressing their own will. Akers reminded me that 90 percent of the people do not want war, but that so many senators are bluntly saying H. R. 1776 is a declaration of war. "What can we do? Why is nobody doing anything? Let's do something", urged Akers.

I explained to him that in order to enjoy liberty we must keep the rules that insure liberty in an organized body which is so big, that we have 130 million members, the people of this nation. While a legislative body cannot be interfered with by a taxpayer's suit, we must look to those senators who are convinced that we are giving away our Republican form of government, to convince the rest of the senators that the people of America do not care to go to war by a side door. There is always a remedy if we look in the right place.

So last Thursday morning at three o'clock, while the rest of you were yet sleeping I got up and sent five telegrams to five different senators asking them why don't they start a filibuster to keep on debating until the rest of the people get a chance to express their attitude effectively on this proposition of giving away our resources and giving the President more power than he had under NRA. On Friday I read in the night edition of the TRIBUNE here in San Diego that Senator William J. Bulow, of North Dakota, said on the floor of the senate that a filibuster, or continued debate, would be a good way to keep us out of war. On Saturday, Paul Mallon, the columnist, remarked in his column that the senators seem to be discouraged and do not dare filibuster because the people back home don't seem to insist on it.

Ask Senators to Filibuster

If the senators are waiting for us folks to tell them what to do, then it becomes our duty to tell them. So I sent two more telegrams, one to Senator William J. Bulow, Senate office building, Washington, D. C. and another to Senator D. Worth Clark at the same address, urging them to start a filbuster or unlimited debate on the matter of going to war. On Sunday I said my prayers and asked divine guidance and help, since I am certain that God who sent us His own beloved Son Jesus Christ to show us the path to spiritual liberty has certainly not deserted us in this hour of danger to our spiritual liberties here in America and then I sat down at the telephone and called up my friends asking them whether they realized that the senators are waiting to hear from the folks back home about filibustering to give the country time to recover from the war psychosis and hysteria till they realize that we must protect liberty in America if it is to survive upon the face of the earth.

Evidently my friends sent their telegrams to various senators, such as Hiram Johnson, Gerald P. Nye, Robert LaFollette, because on Monday evening again I read in the night edition of the TRIBUNE that the administration leaders in the senate had suddenly decided not to press the immediate passage of the bill but to give the senate more time to debate and the reason why the administration changed its attitude was stated as follows: "In the face of a filibuster, the leaders reached a temporary agreement with foes of the bill under which debate will continue during the entire week".

So you can see, folks, that by exercising our rights and doing our duty to tell the senators what we want, we can stop high pressure at the national capital and protect our constitution and our liberties for this bill gives the President more power even than the unconstitutional NRA did. The only way you can protect liberty, your liberty to speak your mind, is to do so and do it right tonight. You, too, have a duty to yourself and to your children to preserve this Republic and the Constitutional RIGHTS which the Founding Fathers procured for us, by passing them on to your children and adding more liberty and higher rights, instead of diminishing them. It is not only your privilege but your duty to write to your senator and to any senator you want to write, what you think about a filibuster as a means of prolonged debate to keep us out of war.

George Washington's Farewell Address

A reader of THE BROOM called up and said: "If you send any more telegrams or write airmail letters to senators, be sure to ask them to read George Washington's Farewell Address on the floor of the senate, that's what those senators need to keep us out of entangling foreign alliances." Then our caller added: "You know Mr. de Aryan, Lindbergh is being called a Nazi because he stands for America First, let them try to call George Washington a Fifth Columunist, for he says the same things about looking out for America First. Just read his Farewell Address."

Dissenters Will Be Called "Traitors"

Roosevelt Backs Wiretapping in 'Public Defense'

WASHINGTON,— The idea of permitting F.B. I. men to tap telephone wires in the investigation of some major crimes was indorsed by President Roosevelt, but he warned that citizens of a democracy must be protected against "unwarranted snooping".

The chief executive objected to broad authority for wiretapping which would be conferred on various federal executives by legislation pending before the house judiciary committee. Instead he proposed that such authority be given to the attorney general, under whom the federal bureau of investigation operates, for use only against aliens or "traitor" citizens engaged in espionage or saboatge.

Nation Arming

Possibly, he added, its use also would be justified in federal investigations of kidnapping and extortion cases.

Mr. Roosevelt said that in sabotage and espionage investigations the employment of wiretapping would be "in the public defense".

"This nation is arming for national defense," he said. "It is the duty of our people to take every single step to protect themselves."

He circumscribed his approval of the method in these words:

"The use of wiretapping to aid law enforcement officers raises squarely the most delicate problem in the field of democratic statesmanship.

Must Protect Citizens

"It is more than desirable, it is necessary that criminals be detected and prosecuted as vigilantly as possible. It is more necessary that the citizens of a democracy be protected in their rights of privacy from unwarranted snooping.

"As an instrument for oppression of free citizens, I can think of none worse than indiscriminate wiretapping."

Tribune-Sun Is Waking Up

The Copley papers which are all for aid to England, are finally expressing doubt as to the wisdom of making ours a subject country to England. Following is a Tribune-Sun editorial:

Regimentation

Paramount fear in the minds of millions of Americans is that our democracy might not survive another world war. Principal reason for this fear is that we would be fighting powerful, allied, highly organized forces functioning without regard for human values and human decencies as we know them, but instead with all the brutal efficiency of a co-ordinated, soulless machine. We fear that against the ruthlessness of these enemies our only effective choice would be to fight the devil with his own fire; that we would have to regiment ourselves in every least detail, voluntarily or by law; and that, win or lose, our individual liberties might never be fully restored to us. Are these fears unfounded?

Who remembers the NRA?

But Britain is still searching and seizing our merchant vessels and our mail.

Britain Captures the White House

Editor, The Broom:

When the American colonies won their independence we had only one Paul Revere. Now we need a thousand Paul Reveres. The country is bigger, the danger is greater, and Americans seems to have lost their spirit. In those days Britain came from Europe bringing war to America. Now Britain is trying to take America to war in Europe, and wants America to furnish the transportation.

Without firing a single shot Britain has already captured the President of the United States and more than half the members of the House of Representatives. British propaganda is now turned on the United States Senate.

If America enters the European war she could waste a hundred times as much wealth, and lose ten or twenty times as many lives, to uphold British imperialism as were spent to shake loose from British imperialism at the time of the revolution. What is still more appalling, the liberty and democracy of America would be lost in the process of another war. The result in Europe would be unnecessarily to prolong the struggle without benefit to the English or German people, but with an increase of slaughter on both sides.

May Americans rouse themselves from their lethargy. May every level-headed and patriotic citizen write letters of protest, immediately, to U. S. Sen. Sheridan Downey of California, and to other senators, Washington, D. C., is sufficient address. Write to any or all senators asking them to defeat the lend-lease bill. I would call it the Roosevelt dictator bill. It is just that. Senator Johnson is against the bill, but he might appreciate a letter of commendation.

Citizens should oppose this bill because it is intended to destroy American neutrality, give all aid to one of the warring imperialist powers, and give Roosevelt more dictatorial power than any other president ever dreamed of asking in peace time, and more than Wilson ever had in war time. I have a letter from Congressman Marcantonio of New York in which he says bluntly that the purpose of the bill is to get the United States into war and to establish a dictatorship in this country.

The President tells the people an untruth when he says that Britain is fighting the battle of democracy. The little gang of hereditary aristocrats who own and rule Britain and exploit the empire are fighting as always to preserve or extend their opportunities for loot. The President tells another untruth when he says that Britain is America's first line of defense. America has no defense in Europe, and needs none. If the hisory of Britain shows us anything, it shows that Britain would betray this country for the slightest advantage. The President is pro-British when he ought to be pro-American.

Furthermore, there is not the least reason to believe that Hitler wants to attack this country. It is even more absurd to think that he could do so successfully "within any predictable future". The President deals with the most palpable and absurd falsehood of all when he leads ignorant citizens to believe that Germany could invade the United States. With reasonable defenses, it simply couldn't be done, and any military man knows it. In addition to that, everyone with any political or economic understanding knows that as long as Hitler lives he will have his hands full three thousand miles away. No one knows what Russia may finally do, or what the conquered peoples will finally do. Hitler's recent victories are liabilities as well as assets. The fact remains that Hitler and his nation are three thousand miles away, and have committed no act of war against the United States. As individuals we may despise Hitler and his government, but that government is the business of the Germans, and is not our business. Already we have "made the world safe for democracy" once too many times.

What is the matter, then, with Rosevelt?

Roosevelt's professed alarm over an alleged military danger is just so much hooey. His real alarm is over economic developments. I think he sees that world capitalism, as we have known it, is breaking down. To him, that is the end of the world. He refuses to recognize that armed conflict cannot restore the old order, but will only make its collapse the more certain. He and the class that he represents fear that the whole world will discover that a monetary system based upon a nation's labor and wealth is superior to a monetary system based upon gold and special privilege to banks. He fears that the old financial system cannot compete in world trade with a "barter" system. He fears "economic penetration", not military invasion. But since when is international trade by any method of exchange a crime, and something for common working men to shed their blood over?

Frantically Roosevelt hopes that somehow through a British victory the system of bankerism, bonds, loans, debt, interest, and profits to the few—all on the gold standard—can be saved. That system is what he means when he speaks of the "American way of life". People, if they know it, will not fight for bankerism and bondage, but Roosevelt thinks they will fight for the "American way of life".

Don't blame Roosevelt that he couldn't solve unemployment and depression by the methods he used. Nobody could. But take note of the fact that the peacetime drafting and training of 16,000,000 men is his latest and biggest WPA project for prosperity—based on the consumption and destruction of wealth, and as usual on billions of new debt. After him the deluge!

That is the man who seeks dictatorial power. Such is the nation's emergency. Rosevelt himself is the Number One Menace to America, and he, more than any other, has created the "emergency". I for one am nauseated with the false democracy of Roosevelt.

Already the President, without authority of law, has disposed of millions of dollars worth of United States property. If the congressmen were not such small potatoes today—if they were true to their trust—they would have thrown the lease-lend-dictator bill into the ash can, and they would be pressing impeachment charges against the President of the United States.

PAUL RICHIE.

Two-Faced Effigy Of FDR, Willkie Hung at Embassy

WASHINGTON,—Capitol police forcibly ejected leaders of the Mothers' Crusade of America and the Mothers Mobilization corps from the senate wing of the capitol for conducting a demonstration against the lend-lease bill.

The women were chanting, "Kill the bill, not our sons," and waving American flags.

The police grabbed Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, of Chicago, who said she was chairman of the Mothers' Crusade and Mrs. Wynnie Fischer of Milwaukee, chairman of the Mothers Mobilization Against War, and ushered them from the building. Their colleagues followed, protesting against the action of the police.

FDR, WILLKIE IN EFFIGY

WASHINGTON,—A two-faced effigy—one showing President Roosevelt and the other Wendell Willkie—was hanged from a wall on the British embassy grounds by a group of women who said they represented the Women's Neutrality league and Paul Revere's Sentinels.

The women carried placards, among them one saying:

"We lease-lend and give to you
"FDR and Willkie too.
"You can have them, but not us
"For in God we place our trust.
"We'll fight, defend and die if need
"To save our republic from bankers' greed."

A workman on the embassy grounds ordered the women away and yanked down the effigy.

Cornell Brothers Sentenced---

Clark and Boyd Cornell appeared before Judge Cavanah in the Federal District Court at Boise, Idaho for their sentence. The Judge gave utterance to extended comments on the Constitutionality of the Conscription Law and sentenced the offenders to serve 12 months in custody either in jails or in work camp. Federal officers immediately sent a telegram to Attorney General Jackson for directions as to where the boys should serve their time. Word came for them to be taken to the Federal Road Camp at Kooskai. They left that morning for their destination.

Want More American Blood

Senator Gerald P. Nye, whose disclosures of the part played by U. S. Big Business in the last war are never mentioned in the Big Business press, writes "IN FACT'S" editor:

"Just at this time it is distressing beyond words to note the extensive coverage which is being afforded the daily hearings on the Lend-Lease Bill, and the things that are not being carried by the press as a result of the reporting.

"For example, I questioned Sec'y. Morgenthau at length concerning the probability of his additional step making easier subsequent steps even to the extent of calling for the willing sacrifice of American blood in the name of the causes we would serve. With this foundation laid, I read excerpts from "The Captains and the Kings Department"—that title covering the Journals and Letters of Reginald Viscount Esher as of the months during the World War. This was revealing first of an utter lack of British sympathy for democracy and an urgent appeal for early sacrifice of American blood. On August 3, 1917, Esher wrote: 'No American is likely to be killed before November. This is unfortunate, as Wilson may require to be steadied before then and only the death of young Americans can insure his stability'. Then, on August 11th, in a memorandum concerning a call that he made at the request of Mr. Henry Morgenthau, Sr. Esher wrote: 'That there is another aspect of this question Mr. Morgenthau is aware, and he realizes the importance upon the morale of the French army and the French people of cementing the Alliance by shedding American blood at the earliest possible moment'.

"To me this seemed all important in the light of the effort that is now under way to make us see how we can bolster the morale of Britain and her possible Alliance by acting quickly. It all leads to the same old end, but the press this morning does not appear to have found it of any interest whatsoever."

THE HIDDEN TRUTH

By Marie Harlowe

In THE CALL, Socialist paper, for Dec. 7, 1940, there is this account of what the English really think about us: "In 1936 Winston Churchill, the present Prime Minister of Britain, wrote to William Griffin of the New York Inquirer as follows: 'Legally we owe this debt to the United States, but logically, we don't, and this because America should have minded her own business and stayed out of the World War. If she had done so, the Allies would have made peace with Germany in the spring of 1917, thus saving over a million British, French, American and other lives and preventing the subsequent rise of Fascism and Nazism.' Mr Churchill evidently overlooked the fact that Parliament approved $100,000,000 for propaganda in the United States to get us into the last war."

It should be a 9-day wonder how England, with her billions of assets and credits, cannot finance her war, which is for the preservation and perpetuation of an Empire built upon exploitation of weak nations—China and India, etc., and Germany, without money or foreign credits is waging a war on a shoestring and asking nothing from anyone.

The richest Empire, the leading "have" in the world, needs help to fight Germany, the leading "have not" of the world!

Citizens of the United States are asked to sacrifice their dollars to British War Relief, yet England still has large numbers of rich, landed estates who are not yet taxed to limits for British War Relief. Many such rich estates came when King Henry VIII took possession of the property of Monasteries (a procedure now condemned when Germany does it), and granted the spoils to the royal favorites. There is an old proverb that "it makes a difference whose ox is gored".

75c To Kill A Man

The cost in dollars, paid afterwards in taxes by the people, is staggering. In Caesar's time it cost 75c to kill a man in war; in Napoleon's war the price was $3,000; in our American Civil War $5,000. In the present war it is estimated that it cost $50,000 to kill one soldier! Rep. John A. Alexander of Minnesota has introduced a bill into Congress for 50 million ($50,000,000) to finance a program for Peace as the safest and least costly defense measure.

British "Liberation"

How can sanctimonious, hypocritical England wage a war of liberation of "slave people" in Europe until she first frees those "slave peoples" in India?

British propaganda details the unrest in enemy-occupied countries, but naturally says nothing about the unrest that is rampant in India today. Nationalist leaders in India are being jailed in fear of their influencing the natives against a willingness to die for empirical Britain.

In the last World War India was promised considerable freedom and at least Dominion status if they would "go along" in the War. India gave 12 million pounds ($60,000,000) and 620,000 soldiers. After the War, higher taxes, and less freedom were imposed, and India's struggle for freedom became a "criminal conspiracy".

Indian independence cannot thus be postponed again.

Jesus Refused To Be "Drafted"

Great Britain claims to be fighting for Democracy and Christianity, while holding in slavery millions of her peoples, who are 9|10 non-Christian. Strangely enough, the only Cross, and the one causing the most concern in the world today is that of the Swastika Cross in Germany.

The history of Europe is largely the history of Christianity, and its opposition by Judaism. The non-Jew, Jesus, was liquidated by the organized Jewry of his day because he sought to expose and oppose their operations. Jesus led a revolt against a "draft" of his day.

It has been said that Peace could not come to the world until some basis of unity was established, some World Idea. Many doubt that the majority of mankind, non-Christian, can ever be unitel under a Christian banner. Certainly the world is little apt to follow anything but the most fundamental teachings of the Christ, devoid of ecclesiastical trappings.

Few ministers today preach that kind of Christianity, but on Nov. 10, Dr. Ernest Fremont Tittle of Evanston, Illinois, declared in his pulpit (reported in the Chicago Tribune, Nov. 26) the following:

"To contend that the evil of Hitlerism can only be overcome with the evil of a food blockade is to fly in the face of history. Also, it is to fly in the face of God, who thru Jesus Christ has plainly said that evil cannot be overcome with more evil, but only with good. 'If thine enemy hunger, feed him'.

"And what may the God of Christian faith be supposed to recommend when the hungry in Belgium say, 'Feed us'; and the naked in Holland with winter approaching, say 'Clothe us'; and the sick in Norway say, 'Visit us' and the desperate in Poland say, 'Come unto us'? To let these poor people suffer and die would be to deny the wisdom of God in favor of a human wisdom which, over and over again, has proved to be ruinous folly.

"If civilization is to be preserved, something decent and daring must now be done. Peoples that walk in darkness in a world at war, if they are not to go mad with terror and suffering, must begin to see light ahead . . . This relief plan, accept it and the German government live up to it and 'the little countries' be blessed by it, might, under God, become the means of saving the world from another dark age and placing it in the way of healing and hope."

The Clothes-Wringer-Draft

For those who favor "all aid short of war" to Britain, we would refer them to Senator Wheeler's recent remarks: "The only trouble is you can't put your shirt tail into a clothes-wringer and then pull it out suddenly while the wringer keeps turning." "Measures short of war" are as impossible as a man trying to stop half-way in a jump into Niagara Falls, or the stopping of an avalanche half way down the mountain.

Oh Yea ! ?

On the one hand, women are mobilizing against war, and this is proper and fitting. Women have a special reason and responsibility for resisting War. They must defend the humans they bring forth to life. Women are the custodians of human life, in other words. How far from that ideal, on the other hand, is the First Lady of the Land. Recently in an address in Springfield (state armory) she said: "Do not be afraid to give up rights of a free people if giving up means we are to preserve our way of life, because as a free people we can always get them back again whenever we want them." Oh yea!

AND IT'LL GET PLENTY OF SIGHS

When the income tax was considered exclusively the rich man's burden, the Man on the Street shed few tears over the plight of his well-to-do neighbor. But now that the federal tax has been revamped to reach the chap in the lower brackets, hellzapoppin. Congressmen are receiving nasty letters by the carload. And in California, petitions will go on the street shortly for outright repeal of the State income levy.

POLICEWOMEN NEEDED

The San Diego council was advised to reappoint policewomen, the appeal being written by Mrs. L. M. Hughes, 4209 Fortieth st., who said:

"We are forced to conclude that we could have the proper police protection in our community if policewomen were reinstated to their former places, thereby freeing policemen for other work.

"We are thoroughly convinced that the moral conditions throughout the city were greatly improved during the time policewomen were so efficiently discharging their duties."

LOVES TENDER SEED

Give to the world its greatest need,
Give to the world love's tender seed,
And what your heart desires most
You will receive way below cost.

Love we suppress means chances spilled,
Nay, even worse, is future killed.
Seed which grows not turns to manure,
Fostered to grow it makes us pure.

—Otto Schkoelziger.

Jewish Communism

Geo. E. Sokolsky (Jew) said (Herald and Examiner, March 6, 1938) that Jews enjoy "strength where capitalism has flourished". The marked tendency of Jews to Communism is not a lack of interest in capitalistic materialism, but is a psychological outlet of the emotional desire to rule the world. The Jews love the world, psychologically, in order to win and rule it. Thus they have an intense concentration of purpose in matters of the world.

The word "Jew" is used thruout the Apocalypse in its Kaballistic meaning of "one having esoteric knowledge". Hence the myth of the chosen people" — those having esoteric (spiritual) knowledge are indeed chosen to SERVE the world.

We hope the city election gets so interesting that it will overshadow the war news on the radio and daily papers.

The Mark of the Beast

Editor, The Broom:

Thank you for sending me some recent copies of "The Broom". However as the Gods have chosen that I incarnate into a Jewish family I am not a desirable prospective subscriber.

But won't you do me and yourself a favor? Look into the mirror at yourself or rather at the facial expression of yourself and be frank. What do you see there? Do you see an exemplification of virtue in full bloom—or do you see 'the marks of the beast' the lines drawn by passion, intolerance, revenge?

Yes, I am a Jew, but primarily I am a human being. If you, Mr. Editor saw me in person, you might look at me with suspicion because of my black hair and other Semitic features, but really I am not an anarchist nor am I dangerous. In fact I am always glad to cooperate, where I am able, with good men and true who observe the Golden Rule and other Universal Laws.

I do not think that all Germans are bad and I hope that, deep down in your heart you too do not think that all Jews are bad.

If you love Truth, as you say, and realize the dire consequences of an oath taken falsely, you should stir yourself to a realization of your present position and right the wrongs you are doing to any individuals within a group who may be innocent. And what matter by what name the group may be known.

Why am I asking you to do this, Mr. Editor? Because I have a faint feeling that you are being mislead; perhaps by the very people whom you love the most, your fellow-religionists, your native countrymen, your family, your followers.

Though these words which I speak to you (in this written form) come out of the mouth and heart of a Jew, won't you please consider them impartially, kindly, reverently? Thank you.

The friend you do not know,

MAX NEWBERG.

Wake Up, Girls!

The White Slavers Are Coming They'll Lease-Lend You, Too!

(The program to make Uncle Sam a white-slaver has been rejected for the present—but it's coming up again—like all rejected New Deal measures).

Wake Up, Americans!

Read about Saltpeter (not St. Peter) on Page 5

Your prospective husbands have been drafted and herded in camps away from you where they are being trained for mass murder and cannon fodder.

Your Uncle Sammy (army-navy supervision) will give you a chance to become living "vitamins" to the men you might have married, to keep them from being doped by Saltpeter.

Your Uncle Sammy (turned white slaver) will give you a chance to turn an "honest penny" at the "oldest profession", as high as $20 a night, if you are a fast worker at $2 a trick.

That is your "patriotic sacrifice" to keep the boys pepped up to make the world safe for the Yiddishers and the Britishers.

When they'll ship the boys over there, they'll lease-lend you, too.

Don't you see what lease-lend means for our boys and girls?!

Wire now, airmail now, to every U. S. Senator, (Senate Building, Washington, D. C.) — Demand a FILIBUSTER ! — Prevent the White Slavers from killing our boys and prostituting our girls !

They ordered the tags, they ordered the coffins, they are preparing the "vitamins" and the syphilis shots.

COMPULSION INDICATES FAILURE

"Despite the present need for speed there are two good reasons for not rushing into a regimented economy. First, it is not the best way to win this struggle; compulsion is a weaker force than the enthusiastic efforts of a free people. Second, freedom too easily surrendered may be lost. The force we are combating is totalitarianism; let us not surrender to it in advance . . . Resolution No. 73491

BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the City of San Diego, as follows:

The petition of C. Leon de Aryan, P. O. Box 349 East San Diego, requesting the Council to submit a proposition at the coming general election to open Seventh Avenue to connect with the existing Park Road in Balboa Park, parallel with Sixth avenue, be, and it is hereby denied.

I hereby certify the above to be a full, true, and correct copy of Resolution No. 73491 of the Council of the City of San Diego, as adopted by said Council Feb. 25, 1941.

FRED W. SICK, City Clerk.
By August M. Wadstrom, Deputy.

About Cancer

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

In the March 1 issue of Liberty Magazine, there was an article by Bernarr McFadden on the cure of cancer, inviting correspondence along this line.

I have sent to the McFadden publishers a copy of the following notations, but not being an M. D. or doctor of any kind, I doubt whether he will give it any attention. If you are interested in it, you may use it in your paper, and if you do so, I sincerely hope that the Yiddish controlled Medical Association will not pounce down upon you for "prescribing" without a license.

CAUSES OF CANCER

Increase of cancer parallel with consumption of meat, coffee, alcohol.—Nervous strain—Lack of elimination—Cancer spores self generated in tar-products and alminum exposed to high temperatures. Lack of or suppression of generative functions increases possibility for cancer.

Cancer caused by excess of albumen in body. Cancer in beginning, no disease of an organ but constitutional.

CURES—tea made out of Violet leaves (Viola odorata)—Salvia officinalis, Aquilegia Vulgare, Sedum Acre.

P. S. The notes are taken from a book:
"Rationelle Krebs & Lupuskuren".

Sincerely yours, "HUMANITARIAN".

PERMIT us to give credit to "The Broom", weekly newspaper of San Diego, for the expression that the editor of that paper hasn't much patience with those fearful people in this country who give too much credit to Hitler and his Nazi organization, fearing Nazi invasion to the extent that they show no confidence in America and Americanism. The editor of The Broom is a former Greek named C. Leon de Aryan. Maybe his Greek spirit, like that shown the past winter in Greece, is somehting for all of us to think about.—Daily Times-Advocate, Escondido, California.

U. S. War-Bent Under Lead of Jews, Charge

ROME,—Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor of Il Giornale d'Italia, warned "the American people" that their opposition to the axis powers' program for Europe might result in political and economic isolation of the United States "with profound harm to its need for commercial expansion".

Gayda said Premier Mussolini's speech last Sunday, (Feb. 23) in which Il duce "denounced the war plots" of "the Rooseveltian Jewish oligarchy", had made a "profound impression in the United States".

The editor repeated Mussolini's argument that Germany and Italy had no intention of attacking the United States and that American aid would be too little and too late to save Britain.

Cites Two "Reasons"

He then accused "Roosevelt's oligarchy", associated with "a foreign Jewish minority", of "dictatorial insistence on dragging the American people into war" for two reasons.

These, he said, were first that "Roosevelt, in his imperialistic plans, would like to set himself up as arbiter of the world and its economy and finance", which would bring the same hostility to bear against the United States that the other powers now are showing against Britain.

Secondly, he declared, "the foreign Jewish minority behind Roosevelt" wants revenge against "Aryan" Germany and Italy.

HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

HONEY — AN IDEAL SWEET

Many times I have been asked what kind of sweet to use, after white, refined sugar is removed from the diet. Honey is probably the best concentrated sweet known.

Dr. Geo. Starr White

Honey differs according to the flowers the bees get the nectar from, as well as from the state of "ripeness" of the honey before it is taken from the hive. No two gatherings of honey will be the same; tho the "purity" of the honey will be the same and its healthfulness uniform.

The comb (wax) of honey is bad for the stomach. That is why "extracted" or "strained" honey is the better; altho one can "extract" it from the comb oneself if one knows how.

There is only slight chance that "extracted" honey, as sold in the stores, is adulterated. In California, where so many apiaries flourish, good honey can be had at a moderate price.

Never boil honey, as that ruins its value as a food. Honey can be diluted with hot, distilled water, and a teaspoonful or less given every few hours to a person suffering with a fever.

Honey and lemon juice, half and half, makes a soothing "medicine" for sore throat or hoarseness, and for coughs.

Honey mixed with borax, about half and half, is a good remedy for sore mouth, or "canker soares". The mixture should be worked about in the mouth and held there a few minutes before spitting it out.

Honey is the best sweetener for almost any form of baby-food. I think it is far better than milk-sugar, which is always denatured.

Honey and raw-spinach juice, or raw-cabbage juice, a few teaspoonfuls every day, is ideal for the baby, for children or for invalids.

Doping Them with Saltpeter to Destroy Their Sexual Functions

NEW YORK,—The training army's social problems, which have become so serious that a congressional committee is investigating them, are complicated by a change in diet which is going to deprive this war of the last one's most prevalent smoking compartment jest. The 1941 conscript is not to be treated to permanganate potassium in his coffee.

Until Asst. Health Coordinator Taft brought the proposal into the open by rejecting it, this column hesitated to mention that modern military dietetic practice was causing serious consideration of officially sanctioned and supervised red light districts near army camps. Taft says that public health service doctors concur in his opposition. He believes that World war experience without such areas demonstrates that they are not needed.

Proponents had another argument. In the world war, to some extent, adventuring was discouraged physiologically with saltpeter. But this had a disadvantage—it tended to make its unwilling if not unwitting users a bit dopey. Nowadays the army doesn't want dopey soldiers —it wants them full of pep, vim and vigor. So they are going to get oodles of Vitamin B. Peanut butter is mentioned as the vehicle to be energized. It is recognized that this may make the boys' spare time a problem. So some—who may have remembered that there really were army-supervised houses in France after the armistice—suggested the device which has been rejected.—S. Burton Heath.

UP ON THE MOUNTAIN

Out in the world they fight and kill,
Here on the mount' we do God's will,
Who is a God of love and peace
And wants us all to be at ease.

That's why we are so happy here
And know neither of grief nor tear,
But sing from dawn till late at night,
Up on the montain in God's light.

—Otto Schkoelziger.

New Ecclesiastical Conclave Organized

GLENDIVE, Montana,—Organizing a new ecclesiastical conclave to allow the human race to be human, the College of Most Exalted Cardinals of the Disciples of Reason, Present Day Saints, convened in formal session at the N. P. Dining room Tuesday evening with His Eminence, Frank C. Hughes, Most Exalted Pope of the Bad Lands diocese, occupying the papal chair and officiating as host.

Most Exalted Pope Hughes I, who is the founder of this new movement, intends to allow everybody the opportunity to become members of the Church of Present Day Saints, providing they can prove their belief in humanity.

The new organization has established its own calendar and recognizes the beginning of its era with the time of Aristotle which makes this the year 2025 S. A. (Since Aristotle).

Petition for Free Transportation

In addition to the spiritual benefits accruing from membership, there will be material benefits, as His Eminence is petitioning the railroads for free transportation and the state and county for exemption from taxes—both privileges accorded officaldom of other churches.

To see that all members of the new church receive all benefits from the organization they will be made Exalted Cardinals upon entering the church.

Most Exalted Pope Hughes, who has achieved considerable fame as author of "Hell And Amen —The Voice Of The Bad Lands", had the pleasure of seeing his literary endeavors canonized as the official tenets of the church.

Most Exalted Pope Hughes sees a great future for the new church. As soon as everyone in the world has joined the P. D. S., the New Deal, Naziism, Communism and all other "isms" will vanish because members of the P. D. S. will laugh at them and isms cannot stand for any humor.

At the meeting Tuesday evening a formal Concordat was signed by the Most Exalted Cardinals and the Most Exalted Pope, giving him authority over all abstract domain.

The Most Exalted Cardinals to date includes a very representative group. Among them are a world's champion long distance swimmer, two newspaper men, a retired agrarian and oil promoter, two garagemen, a stockman, a railroad brakeman and a retired farm implement representative.

CHURCHILL IS 'WINSTON' IN TALKS WITH 'FRANKLIN'

LONDON,—It's "Winston" and "Franklin," now when President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill converse by transatlantic telephone, the London Daily Mail reports.

The president and prime minister dropped more formal methods of addressing each other, according to the Mail, after Harry Hopkins arrived in London.

'Nazis Have Ideal Lacking in U. S.', Says Professor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.,—Asserting German youth has something to live for and is in many ways happier than the American youth, Dr. Walter M. Kotschnig, of Smith college, believes "this very fact constitutes the greatest challenge to our democratic institutions."

In an article in the Harvard educational review, he said the older generation was at fault for "cynicism" of young people about the war and problems it raised in America and for "failing" to give youth equal educational opportunities.

He declared that while, in America, the democratic ideal of equality had not been realized in practice, the German youth "have been given an ideal greater than themselves—false as it undoubtedly is—which has liberated them, which has given them a sense of exhilaration."

The professor of education and child study added:

"In spite of regimentation and loss of individual freedom, German youth is in many ways happier than ours. They have something to live for.

"Unless we match this purposefulness of German youth, unless there are loyalties in us greater than theirs, all our battleships and tanks and planes will not save us from defeat."

PLAYING AT WAR TO MURDER OUR SONS

F. D. R. always loved to play at war. When he was assistant secretary of the navy, he spent many happy hours on naval vessels. Most of his ocean vacation trips have been made on cruisers. When the navy general board visits the White House to discuss a question which could be settled in 15 mintues, he keeps them there for hours as he revels in talk of battles at sea. In these days it can be a valuable complex, but it also has its difficult and dangerous aspects.

IN MEMORIAM
Dr. John H. Tilden
Died Sept., 1940, age 90

Address delivered by
CHAS. H. INGERSOLL
at the Memorial Meeting, Steinway Hall
January 23, 1941

If my words could add to the luster of a great personality, I would indeed be happier. This doctor preferred the name 'physician' and made no use of M. D., except to assure skeptics that he knew his drugs, as well as he knew their deadly incidence.

Ingersoll

He said a drug never cured anything, nor — as such—did an M. D., and that surgery was, in nearly every case, misapplied. So after decades of 'practice' in all these, he eschewed practicing and went to performing, as a humble student of beneficent nature and teacher of health!

Practicing what he taught, he demonstrated health—in 90 years of longevity. And these 'capitalized' at about 150 years, since advocating that only the overfed needed more than 4 hours sleep, he worked—and intensively—an average of 20 hours a day.

'Tilden invented the salad', in the sense of popularizing it, along with fruit, so that a generation ago one had to hunt for them, they are now thrust on you, even at the lunch counter—truly a revolution!

Tilden was not a showman. He spread his career in full upon the pages of his three unique pocket magazines: 'The Stuffed Club', 'The Philosophy of Health' and 'The Health Critique', so that for 60 years I felt this almost divine power was a part of my life, as did thousands of others.

But he went no further in diffusing his novel science and philospohy. He even resisted the proffer of one of his oldest friends to write his biography.

Tilden's theory of Toxemia was unique in its broad application, i. e. its insistence that the universal cause of 'disease' (which he refused to so name) is to be found in self-generated toxic poisons, and not in germs, heredity or visitation of any exterior kind. The unpopularity of this theory, in its demand of self-cure versus reliance on drugs and doctors, resulted in a 'frustration' that would have ended an ordinary career.

Dr. Tilden's writings are classics, as were his rare but forceful public addresses. If any literature will occupy a 'hall of fame', the Tilden magazines will. And if any such examples of the printed word are to be woven into the fabric of the future American life, these vital brochures will be in the forefront. The reason for this will be that Tilden was a fundamentalist. He dug to the very tap-root of a NEW SCIENCE—the science of health—not the science of medicine and surgery; not the science of 'cure'. His science of health was a science primarily of prevention of ill health, by normal living. Indeed, one finds, after all this analysis and encomium, that Tilden had nothing! Nothing but common horse-sense. And for this simple doctrine of an always-simple nature, he was willing to topple over all the idols of 'medical superstition'.

One of Tilden's most effective positions was that 'the high road to health lay midway between the two extremes of the materialism of the medical profession, and the waste opportunity potential in the mental-curative program'. Optimism, mixed with action of the most drastic kind, is implicit in the Tilden 'cure'.

Finally, I must place this name in a high niche, along with Fundamentalists Jefferson, Lincoln and Henry George, in whom the Doctor had implicit faith as the 'Prophets of Democracy', and whose doctrines were reflected in all his utterances'.

Especially striking is the parallel of the Tilden radical treatment of the human body, with that of George's radical treatment of the body politic. Both moved only after discovery of root causes, and neither stopped short of elimination of cause . . . Both start with natural law; both are simple and obvious. Both are still ahead of their contemporaries—how long? I don't know!

Knapp Files Libel Suit Against Denver Post

Editor, The Broom:

You probably read in the last issue of "Land & Freedom" the story of my recent campaign for Governor, and of the political trick pulled by the "Denver Post", which resulted in my failure to land.

In case you did not read about it, I will say briefly that on the day before the election, the Denver Post spread the report all over the state that I had been declared out of the race—that I had been "disqualified".

This stunt was pulled just a few hours before the election so that there would be no opportunity for me to do anything, even via the Radio, to counteract the false impression.

It happens that the publication was a libel, and at the urgency of several single taxers, I have filed a libel suit against the "Post" for $50,000. The money for filling the suit was contributed by C. A. Adams, single taxer of Cambridge, Mass., and also of Philadelphia, Pa. The cost was $20.

Since then the following single taxers, hearing about this suit, have contributed the following sums:—

W. L. Crosman $2; Dr. R. Hayes $5; Fred A. Meyer $20; John Dillon $1; Emil Knipps $2; John D. Knapp $1 (again); H Bostroem $4; John Allen $10; Lawson Purdy $5; F. W. Lynch $2; Joan Chaffe $7; J. Rupert Mason $20; Geo. Cartwright $2; F. Workman $2; W. G. Stewart $5; Henry George Knapp $10, total $99.00.

Of this amount $50 has been deposited by me as security for a "cost bond". That means that THAT money has not been spent, but is merely posted as security for costs.

The remainder of the money has been either paid out for costs and incidental expense, or is still on hand.

However, I am expected to add about $20 additional to the sum posted as security for costs. Hence a few more small contributions would be very welcome.

The suit was filed in the district court here on Dec. 6th.

On January 20th, we completely defeated the "Post" in the first court session. They had filed two motions: one to strike the complaint in 17 places; the other to make the complaint more specific in 17 places, if the first motion should be defeated.

The Result:—Their first motion was completely defeated, and we defeated them on 13 of the 17 specifications of their second motion.

They have now filed a demurrer to the complaint. This will be before the court for hearing and determination on St. Patrick's day—March 17th.

It is safe to say that we will defeat them on it. We have the law overwhelmingly with us on this matter. And we have the BEST judge in Denver sitting in the case—Robt. Steele.

All expenses of the suit to date are paid. What money will still be needed, will be for jury fees and incidental expense.

The Post has six attorneys. BUT, I also have SIX attorneys, all of whom volunteered their services. It has cost me nothing for attorneys fees. The attorneys who have volunteered their services have no use for this lousy newspaper, and they have volunteered their help just because they want to see me give this dirty sheet a beating.

I want to raise an additional $20 or $25, for the purposes of this suit. We hope to lay a foundation here that will enable us to squelch these lying newspapers which, more than any one other agency, contribute (by their lying) to the defeat of single tax whenever and wherever we try to do anything in the way of having single tax enacted into law.

If you can give a lift, no matter how little, it will be appreciated.

Sincerely,
G. J. KNAPP.
638 East 20th Ave., Denver, Colorado.

Note: The Editor mailed him $1.00.

Must Truth Tellers Starve ?

I have been told many a time that if I continue to speak my mind frankly and honestly, I won't be able to eat regularly and my family would suffer. To this I replied that I still have faith in God, that He rules supreme and not mice and men. Here is another news item, from Manila, Philippine Islands: Members of the Philippine Writers' league pondered a cryptic farewell message left with them by Ernest Hemingway, before the American author and his bride left by clipper for Hongkong and Chungking. "The writers' gravest problem is to always write the truth—and still eat regularly", Hemingway observed.

Life Is Cheap

The influence of war is brutal and brutalizing. We do not want to become a brutalitarian country. But from Sacramento comes the news one American has already given way to the brutalitarian psychology of war. I am quoting the whole news item which speaks for itself: "It would have cost me money if I had wrecked my car", was the reason given by John Allk, 16, of Lodi, for striking a pedestrian instead of crashing his car into another machine, police report. Charged with hit-run driving and failing to render aid, Allk was quoted by officers as saying: "Life is cheap. They kill 'em by the hundreds in Europe and Africa and think nothing of it". Officers who arrested Allk said he was not intoxicated. His victim, 17-year old Dale Fogel, of North Sacramento, escaped serious injury.

Confiscating Food Licenses

Upon instructions from City Manager Walter Cooper, Chief of Police Peterson ordered the confiscation of food permits, tobacco, card room and music-box licenses from a number of suspected bookmaking establishments in San Diego. The City Attorney made an exhaustive report on these seizures detailing the law governing the issuance of licenses. This report definitely shows that the seizures were illegal, that the police has no authority to violate the law by such seizures merely because the police is unable or unwilling to make proper seizures of gambling equipment to prove violation of gambling laws. As much as I am against gambling, I am also against lawless conduct by the police itself. If the police can persecute suspects in one line and get away with it, it can arbitrarily persecute anybody else. Policemen should not usurp the powers of the court.

SAYS BOAKE CARTER: "Some odd things I don't understand: Messrs. Morgenthau, Stimson, Knox, Gerard and company say that it is little short of wicked to think of the United States asking Britain to pay for the aid we are giving them; that we should give it away.

"Why, then, does the Canadian government require Britain to pay for all the aid being manufactured for Britain by Canadian manufacturers?"
